PMI Doctor Bird Chapter & DPM International Ltd.
Collaborates to Offer Project Management Training in Jamaica

The PMI Jamaica Doctor Bird Chapter (PMI-JDBC) and Development Partners and Management International Ltd (DPM), a Boston University Education Affiliate, have signed a memorandum of understanding to partner on the delivery of the Boston University Corporate Education Center Certificate in Applied Project Management evening programme. PMI-JDBC is the local arm of the Project Management Institute (PMI), the worlds' largest membership organization for project managers. The PMI has over 380,000 members in 170 countries worldwide. DPM International is a management consultancy, offering services and training in project management and is also Jamaica's first and only PMI Registered Education Provider, as well as an Educational Affiliate Partner of Boston University Corporate Education Centre* (BUCEC).

The agreement will allow the Doctor Bird Chapter to deliver the BUCEC, 12-week evening certificate in Applied Project Management in conjunction with DPM International. Both organizations will continue to explore future opportunities, for collaboration to provide educational and professional development opportunities, in project management.

"We look forward to the opportunity to work together with the Doctor Bird Chapter to increase the supply of qualified, educated professionals to satisfy the growing demands of the Jamaican marketplace." says Sherrone Lobban, CEO of DPM International.

Cecil White, PMP, President of PMI Jamaica Doctor Bird Chapter, notes that "This partnership with the DPM International will ensure the delivery of quality project management training to practitioners of project management, in accordance with standards of the PMI." Says
